COUNTY NEWS.

Moscow.

If we could but grasp the idea that we are here not only to live, but to make the best of life, to beautify and enrich each other, to bring out the best in each other, the best in life would be a better best and the possibilities in even such folk as most of us are would find a higher level.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Pearce of Somerville vicinity, two of the writer's warm friends, were Monday visitors with local relatives.

Don't allow your town to remind a visitor of the wicked Fairy who shot a dose of sleeping sickness into a whole town and it went off to bed for a hundred years. Let us all wake up to our opportunities. A good dose of advertising ginger is great for a dead town and community.

Mr. Leslie Shelton from the Hickory Withe neighborhood passed through Moscow Monday.

When asked why he put butter in a cup of the average boarding house coffee he replied, I believe in the strong helping the weak.

If you believe in your town demand that it be kept clean, which is by far cheaper than sickness.

The marriage of W. H. Pearce to Miss Clara Rogers which took place in Memphis Sunday, was somewhat of a surprise to the many friends of the couple. The groom is a son of J. A. Pearce of Somerville, and the bride a daughter of our townsman T. F. Rogers. The young couple have the congratulations of numerous friends.

There is no such thing as a good ring, be it church, society, or politics. Only the best blades keep their temper.

A town cannot rise above the level of its citizens.

The untimely death of our beloved citizen, Mr. Junius Hobson, was received here with deep sadness and regret and surprise. Mr. Hobson was a genial whole souled gentleman, his heart and hand being always open to charity and to the need of his fellowman. But few of us will ever know the many good deeds rendered by this honored public official and good citizen.

The local ball club lost a game to Grand Junction at that place Friday, score 8 to 7. However much complaint was heard about the way the game was conducted.

Among those of our people who attended the burial services of Mr. Junius Hobson in Somerville Friday were J. J. Burnett, C. H. Rich, Henry Bryant, and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Pulliam.

Reading the Bible regularly will liberate your soul, sweeten your hours of toil, and make life seem to you more noble and worth while.

Rev. R. W. Newsom delivered two able sermons Sunday at the local Methodist church.

Mrs. Eliza Piper of Piperton was a recent guest of Mrs. Frank Piper.

Dr. O. H. Cribbins and Frank Piper accompanied a patient to the hospital at Bolivar Saturday.

Keep the register's office race in mind and help a good man win, and there are good men out for the well paying position.

Antioch.

Mr. and Mrs. William Goode visited their son, Ollie Goode, of Lambert Sunday.

We are glad to learn that little Ethel Williams who has been seriously ill for a month is improving.

J. C. Douglass of Lambert visited his uncle, E. C. Douglass, one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. William Springers spent the week end with their mother, Mrs. Largent, near Somerville.

We are sorry to say that Mrs. Pattie Carter and Miss Roxy Cook are on the sick list.

The Antioch Sunday school is preparing for Children's Day services which will be held in the near future.

Mrs. LaVerne Barron and little daughter, Hazel, of Hickory Withe spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Cole.

Nettie Lou Stafford spent last week with her grand mother, Mrs. Nancy Stafford.

M. C. Stafford and son, Warren, visited J. A. Douglass Sunday.

Lee Oliver and son, Louis, visited relatives in this neighborhood Sunday.

S. A. Doyle visited his sister, Mrs. H. C. Stafford, Sunday.

Mrs. Bell Stafford and little daughter, Leora, of Oakland, Wylie Murphey and family of Union, Marshall Griffin and family of Warren and Sam Barron of Hickory Withe spent Sunday at W. S. Cole's.

John Cole made a flying trip to Hickory Valley Saturday evening.

Rev. W. S. Renshaw spent Sunday night at J. L. Tomlin's.

J. T. O'Kelly of Lambert visited J. A. Douglas one day last week.

Little Gladys Walls of Warren spent several days with her aunt, Mrs. Emmy Springer.

Mrs. Rich and children spent Sunday with Mrs. G. F. Cook. SCHOOL GIRL.

Macon.

I see LaGrange correspondent says that the Macon girls ought to go to Moscow to find them a husband and I do wonder if the Moscow boys are really worth going after. They would have to be both handsome and rich if the Macon girls took them for that is one reason the girls have never married, they are so hard to please, that is why they are old maids now.

Quite a number of people of this town attended Sunday school at the Gaither school house Sunday afternoon.

Tom and Miss Lula Tackor of Williamson visited Miss Virginia Masengale Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Nuckols, after spending a few days with Mrs. L. F. Chambers has gone to Collierville for a weeks visit.

L. E. Crews of Somerville High School spent Saturday and Sunday at home.

Mrs. Smith has been real sick for quite a while but we hope she will soon recover.

Mr. Scott one mile south of this place is building him a beautiful house. BROWN EYES.

LaGrange.

Mrs. Brown Jones Smith:—"I notice that a bill has been introduced in the legislature to increase widow's pensions. I shall always believe—" Mr. B. J. S.:—"That the best way to provide for widow is the Moscow way—marry her."

Misses May and Annie McNamee of West Fourth Street and Miss Kittie Wilburn of East Second Street have returned from an automobile touring trip of North Mississippi.

Husbands should always keep on listening terms with their better seven eights. We know.

W. B. Franklin, Max Wunderlich, and Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Beasley, were among those who attended the burial service of the late Junius Hobson at Somerville last Friday.

If it is wise to quit drinking intoxicants during a war period, it ought to be good sense to quit when there is no war.

Miss Lucile Wilburn of St. Katherine's school at Bolivar, Tennessee, was a visitor to home folks on East Second Street last Sunday.

Some of those who have been drawing rations from the public corn-crib for a long number of years are anxious to draw again.

Miss Euphemia Moore of Somerville, Tennessee, spent the week end as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Franklin on Walnut Street.

Mirth is medicine, and laughter lengthens life. A distinguished man who died two hundred and ninety nine years ago by the name of William Shakespeare said that laughter was the wine of life. This caused Josh Billings to remark that, "If a man can't laugh there is sum mistake made in putting him together, and if he won't laugh he wants a nurse to keep him away from a bear-trap when it is set."

Miss Susie Sneed of Memphis, Tennessee, is the guest of Mrs. K. H. Wilburn on East Second street.

Happy is the man that owns his own home. We had rather live in a one room cabin and own it than to live in a mansion and pay rent.

Miss Annie Hunt of the Rossville Public school spent the week end with home folks on Locust Avenue.

No man or woman can live their life to themselves. It is either for good or evil to their neighbors around them, and their neighbors know which it is.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. James of Grand Junction, Tennessee, were visitors to friends and church service Sunday.

The ability to make an apt answer to coarse abuse is an acceptable trait. A gentleman met a man on a narrow walk who did not like him. "Sir", said the gentleman, stepping aside, "I always do. Pass on."

Mrs. P. R. Beasley of Locust Avenue was a visitor to Memphis this week.

John A. Douglas and Alexander Stevens, in the days before the civil war, were running against each other for Governor in Georgia and were engaged in a political debate. Douglas was a tall powerful built man weighing over two hundred and fifty pounds. Stevens was small and little weighing under a hundred and twenty pounds.

Douglas was speaking and said with a roar, "Who is little Alex Stevens? If I were to pin his ears to the side of his head and grease him good I could swallow him whole." "Sir", interrupted Stevens in a shrill voice, "If you were able to perform that astonishing feat you would have more brains in your belly than you have got in your head." The crowd voted for Stevens.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Whitaker, of Memphis, Tennessee, were here Sunday to visit the parents of Mrs. Whitaker, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Pankey on West Fourth Street.

Mrs. J. W. Hunt of Locust Avenue was a visitor to Memphis this week.

Route Six.

Owing to the good weather the farmers are very busy planting cotton.

Edd Webb of Memphis visited relatives and friends on our route last Sunday.

SLIM JIM AND MUT.

County High School Will Close June 4.

The annual closing of the Fayette County High School will be held this year on June 4. The commencement sermon will be preached on May 29 by Rev. C. A. Harper, pastor of the Presbyterian church in this city, and Prof. H. E. Dennison of the faculty of State Normal School in Memphis will deliver the baccalaureate address on the fourth of June.

The senior class of the high school this year is composed of fifteen young men and young women of the county who hope to receive their diplomas of graduation. The examination questions this year for the graduates are being prepared at Nashville by the Inspector of high schools instead of being arranged by the faculty of the high school. This year can well be counted as one of the best in the history of the county high school. The attendance has been large and the student body has been contented and busy, and they come to the close of the year with knowledge of duty well done.

Prof. Summers who has been principal of the school for two years past has notified the high school board that he will not be an applicant for re-election, but that he desires to retire at the end of the present term's work. His plans for the future have not been definitely made. His retiring will be regretted by the pupils and patrons of the school. His successor has not yet been chosen and no date for the election of his successor has been fixed, as far as The Falcon has learned.

The Register's Office.

According to information The Falcon has obtained from lawyers here, the successor to the late Junius Hobson as register of Fayette county will be chosen at the July meeting of the county court. He will serve until the August election 1916 when a register will be chosen by the people to serve the remaining two years of the present term, that is until the regular August election 1918 at which time one will be Garnett-Meux.

At the Methodist church in this city on Tuesday evening Miss Martha Garnett was wedded to Dr. George W. Meux, Rev. R. P. Duckworth officiating. The church was artistically decorated for this occasion, and long before the hour appointed for the ceremony the edifice was filled to its limit, even standing room being at a premium. While the large gathering of their friends were awaiting the arrival of the wedding party Mrs. Tom Moor-man sang "Oh, Promise Me" and Mrs. Duckworth entertained the audience with other music.

The ushers were Jack McNeil of Memphis, brother-in-law of the bride, Alec Yancey and Dr. Clary, also of Memphis, and Henry Livingston of Brownsville. Miss Garnett McNeil, niece of the bride, acted as flower girl.

The bride, wearing a sand colored tailored suit, entered with the groom, there being no other attendants than the ushers and flower girl mentioned, Mrs. Duckworth playing the wedding march.

Dr. Meux is a promising and wealthy young physician of Stanton, coming from one of the oldest and best know families of Haywood county.

The bride is a daughter of Esq. and Mrs. J. H. Harnett of the fourth district and has been much in this city where she has a large circle of friends. To the splendid graces which nature had endowed her she has added the culture, ease and refinement that go to make an ideal character, and her husband can count himself among the fortunate of earth in winning her hand.

Dr. and Mrs. Meux left immediately following the ceremony for a trip of ten days, after which they will reside on the large Meux estate one mile from Stanton.

elected for a full four year term.

It is also learned that under the law, the present deputy register will serve as register until the court meets in July. The Deputy Register at the time of the death of Mr. Hobson was Hal P. Stainback who will by virtue of the laws governing such matters have charge of the Register's office until July, at which time a register will be elected.

The number of entries in the race is questionable, but known to be large. There are probably more than a dozen candidates for the office. Two appear in another column of this issue. The entire list as best The Falcon can give at this time, and some we can not say positively are candidates, is as follows. C. M. Reames, G. W. Bobbitt, M. L. Farris, W. M. Pierce, H. P. Stainback, of the first district, W. L. Jewell, J. J. Pulliam and—Jenkins of the twelfth, L. R. Shelton of the fifth, Jack Hunter of the third, J. W. Matthews of the seventh, with several others who are prospecting and will probably make positive announcement soon.

To Drive Out Malaria

And Build Up The System Take the Old Standard GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC. You know what you are taking, as the formula is printed on every label, showing it is Quinine and Iron in a tasteless form. The Quinine drives out malaria, the Iron builds up the system. 50 cents
